

I feel that this law should be left as is. I enjoy the fact that I do not get these annoying phone calls as soon as I walk through the door as soon as I get home from work or during my evening meal. I also feel if they change this for the Bankers, others will want it changed to suit their needs. I feel that if someone left a Bank for any reason, they would not want to return. Things are better left as is.